PRESS RELEASE

The Plymouth Police Department is pleased to announce that on Friday, August 16th 2013 an indictment was returned from the Grafton County Superior Court, charging with a felony for the theft of the cemetery gates from the Pleasant Valley Cemetery on the Smith Bridge Road that occurred in Plymouth back in August of 2010.

Mr. Justin Macdonald of Holderness, NH

Police allege that Macdonald was acting in concert with his girlfriend in the theft of the gates and that the two turned the gates in to a salvage dealer for the scrap value.

Ms. Angie Beecher of Northfield, NH

Ms. Beecher was previously indicted for this same incident earlier this year.

This indictment of Macdonald is a final step toward the end of a nearly three year investigation.

This information is being released on August 21, 2013 through the office of Deputy Chief Alexander Hutchins. Further inquiries may be made by contacting Deputy Chief Hutchins at (603)536-1804, ext. 104
